More about our guest speakers

Nancy Bos

Nancy Bos is an award-winning author, TEDx speaker, and dynamic performer known for lighting up the stage with energy, authenticity, and heart. As the founder of The Confidence Alliance, she draws on over 30 years of experience in voice science, coaching, and live performance to help professionals tap into their full presence and power.

David Doan, PhD, MBA, RN, BCMAS, PMC-II, PMP, CSM, CSPO

David is the current President of PMI Los Angeles Chapter and a recognized leader in project management and healthcare transformation. With over 30 years of experience, David has led complex projects for payers, providers, and healthcare innovators, specializing in digital transformation, workflow optimization, and value-based care.

Sarah Lee, CGFM

Manager of Project Management at Sandia National Laboratories, Sarah has significant experience addressing Urgent Operational Needs (UONs) projects. Most recently, she was a participant of the prestigious Department of Energy (DOE) Project Leadership Institute, focused on building a culture of project management excellence across DOE. She holds an undergraduate degree in Public Administration & Policy from the University of Arizona and a Master's in Business Administration with concentrations in Finance and Management from the University of Illinois.

Dr. Amy Grimm, DVM, CLC

Dr. Amy Grimm is a success and well-being coach, speaker, and veterinarian who helps high-performing professionals lead with clarity, energy, and purpose without sacrificing their well-being. A former medical director who experienced burnout firsthand, Amy now coaches leaders across industries to recognize the hidden costs of hustle culture and create sustainable success through strategic prioritization and people-first leadership.

Dr. Robert Tierney, BSc, MBA, PhD

Assistant Professor at Northern New Mexico College, Dr. Tierney teaches project management and technology innovation, drawing from a multidisciplinary background in molecular biology (BSc), business (MBA), and a PhD in Technology Innovation from the University of Twente. His research focuses on biomedical innovation, nanotechnology applications, and entrepreneurship metrics.
